

TECHNICAL ADVISOR REGISTRATION

The Automated NIRS/NUTBAL System has three groups of users. The technical advisor acts as a consultant to the ranch owner or manager. The ranch owner is the customer in the system that is responsible for the account. The herd contact is the person who is responsible for the livestock operation and is able to make management decisions, and knows the physiological stages of the animals being analyzed.

If you would like to register as a technical advisor, please enter the requested information and select a user name and password. After registering, customers who add a ranch and use the system to monitor the nutrition of their livestock will be able to select you as their technical advisor. After logging into the system you will be able to view all of the ranches you are working with online.

Please select the appropriate designation on the entry screen. If you are a 3rd party vendor certified by the NRCS please enter your certification number in the form. If you are not a 3rd party vendor then a certification number is not required.

For more information on the overall process, please review the introduction video and tutorials, or contact the GANLAB by email at ganlab@cnrit.tamu.edu or 979-845-5838.